Jukskei River Revival Collective

The Jukskei River is made up of many underground (pure) springs in the Ellis Park precinct which combine to form the source. The Jukskei daylights for the first time at Queens Street (very close to the Nandos Central Kitchen and Victoria Yard Development). It then travels into Bruma Precinct and joins the Crocodile River 3-4km north of Lanseria Airport. The Crocodile flows into the Hartbeespoort Dam and out to meet the Marico River, which runs along the country's border with Botswana. It then merges with another tributary, the Lenkwane River, and becomes the Limpopo flowing north eastwards and forming the border between Botswana and Zimbabwe, exiting South Africa just north of the Pafuri Gate in the Kruger, into Xia Xia, Mozambique.

Introduction: The Jukskei River Run

The majority of the streets of the study area are not comfortable walking streets so the proposed urban intervention is a pedestrian spine designed to connect the urban fabric by using anchors A and B

- Primary Pedestrian Route
- Secondary Pedestrian Route

A
Ellis Park
East BRT
Station

B
Public
Park

The green spine acts as an urban corridor connecting selected areas within the context

Hopes from the City (Inner City Roadmap Pillars)

Hope to work together on many things, but TOP THREE for 2018/19 are:

- 1 - Visible policing (JMPD) + increased policing at crime hotspots especially after dark (Clean & Safe Inner City)
- 2 - Responsiveness of entities – streetlights, potholes, water leaks, park maintenance (Well-Governed Inner City)
- 3 - Continue JDA 'Our City Our Block' support (JDA) towards creating an identity for the area (Inclusive Inner City)

Best way for neighbourhood partnership to work with Mayor's Office? (JICP?)
